

Types of Candidate Filings

Code	Description
AFF	A candidate or elected official may file an affidavit stating that he or she does not intend to accept or expend more than $2,500 to be exempt from filing, or not more than $5,000 to qualify for a reduced filing schedule.
Amend#	Amendment to a form that had already been filed. For ease of matching, the amendment is given the same filing date as the original form. There may be more than one amendment to the same form.
2-BDR	Two Business Day Report is used to report contributions (including loans) of $1,000 or more, that are received between the last report due before an election and the election itself.
CCDR	Campaign Contribution Disclosure Report is used to report contributions and expenditures for a particular campaign.
DOI	Declaration of Intent to Collect Campaign Contributions is filed by candidates before they begin collecting contributions.
Incumb	Affidavit of an Incumbent not Seeking Reelection
Invoice	Invoice from Cobb Elections to the candidate for late fees accrued because they were late filing one or more required forms.
Late	Notice from Cobb Elections to the candidate that they are late on one or more filings.
Final	Final Report and Termination Statement is used when the candidate leaves office or does not intend to run again for that office, and the campaign has a zero balance and zero indebtedness.
PFD	Personal Financial Disclosure is filed once a year by candidates and elected officials to disclose their financial involvements.
RC	The candidate may register a Campaign Committee and designate a Campaign Committee Chairperson
RO	Form used to register a Campaign Committee other than a candidate; for example if a group wants to form a committee to campaign for or against a particular ballot question.
